THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN.

No Clear-Cut Issue Before Electors.

LORD BIRKENHEAD'S ADVICE TO CONSERVATIVE WOMEN.

(Reuter's Service.)

London, November 6.
Mr. Bonar Law's prediction of a big Conservative majority is not shared by Lord Birkenhead, who to-day publishes advice to the Conservative women of Liverpool to vote for Conservative candidates only if they undertake to co-operate with Mr. Lloyd George. Lord Birkenhead says it is inconceivable that Mr. Bonar Law will obtain a working majority, and Mr. Lloyd George is the only leader with whom he can combine.

With no outstanding issue, and a multiplication of candidates, as a result of which straight fights will be very few, party organisers, unlike those at previous elections, are somewhat doubtful as to their prospects, but the Independent Liberals and the Labourites both declare that reports from the constituencies are encouraging.

Labour Not Dismayed.

Labourite headquarters to-day declared that they are not dismayed by the agitation on the subject of a capital levy, which their opponents are exploiting to the utmost. An official said the Party would adhere to its levy plan as the only method of dealing with the National Debt. The official anticipated that 200 Labourites would be elected.

Personalities in the contest have so far been largely confined to the Conservatives, Independent Conservatives and National Liberals. The last-mentioned, who claim 178 candidates as compared with 135 with which they are generally credited, point out that the Conservatives nominated include 78 Chamberlainites, whose attitude after the election will be uncertain.

Mr. Lloyd George's Speeches "Cut."

London, November 6.

It is noteworthy that Mr. Lloyd George, despite the evidences of his popularity as indicated by cheering crowds, no longer figures among the speakers who are reported verbally. This may be due to lack of space, for the papers to-day are hardly able to give room to Saturday's speeches, the perusal of which must be bewildering to the electorate, for there is no clear-cut issue like Home Rule or Tariff Reform.

The tone of personal recrimination in the speeches is sharpened, suggesting that the only issue before the electors is the former Government's record, especially in the Near East.

Plethora of Candidates.

There are three-cornered contests in 207 constituencies, four-cornered fights in 26, a five and six candidates in each of half a dozen constituencies.

The Conservatives are attacking the National Liberals in 30 seats, the National Liberals are attacking four Conservatives and 11 Liberals, while the Independent Liberals are attacking 23 National Liberals, including ten in Scotland, where the evidences of a Conservative and National Liberal understanding are strongest. All the 12 women candidates have to fight for their seats.

An Interesting Candidate.

London, November 6.

Mr. C. B. Crisp, who negotiated the famous £5,000,000 loan to China in 1912, is the Independent Liberal candidate at Windsor.

U.S. TRADE BOOM.

Bright Prospects for the Future.

London, November 6.

Mr. Walter Andrews, President of the British Wool Federation, on arrival in Liverpool from America said he noticed that business was improving very rapidly in the United States, especially in the woolen section. There was every prospect of very good trade. Americans were anticipating a good time within six months or a year. Nearly all trades were improving in the States.

NO IRISH PEACE.

De Valera the "Die-Hard."

London, November 2.

Mr. de Valera, in a statement, declares that there is no truth in the rumours of peace negotiations. He says the principles which the Republicans are defending are, by their nature, irreducible and not susceptible to compromise. Victory for the Republic or utter defeat and extermination are now the alternatives.

AMERICAN MINE EXPLOSION.

Ninety Miners Entombed.

Spangler (Penn.), November 6.

As the result of a terrific explosion at the Reilly Coal Mine, ninety miners who had just begun the day's work are imprisoned. Rescuers have entered the mine.

Later.

The rescuers have saved a number, but 25 corpses have so far been raised.

CHINA AND POLAND.

A Commercial Understanding?

Warsaw, November 6.

It is believed that commercial negotiations will be opened between Poland and China, after the treaty of amity, which has just been negotiated, has been signed.

RESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT FOR RHODESIA.

Salisbury (Rhodesia), November 6.

The Referendum as regards the future Government of Rhodesia resulted in 8,774 voting for responsible Government and 5,989 for incorporation in the Union of South Africa.

SERIOUS NEAR EAST CRISIS.

More Demands by Angora.

ALLIES DECLINE TO DISCUSS NEW POINTS.

(Reuter's Service.)

London, November 6.

It is authoritatively stated that the developments occurring at Constantinople are very serious. The appointment of an Administration favourable to Angora is an internal matter not concerning outsiders, and any demand by Angora to take over the civil administration in the occupied zone will be inadmissible, provided the terms of the Mudania Convention are upheld, securing Allied military occupation of the zone. But a demand for Kemalist military occupation of the zone would be inadmissible by the Allies, as conflicting with the Convention.

In consequence of the conflicting position at Constantinople, it is now thought likely that the Lausanne Conference may be postponed for a week or more. Any further untoward event in Constantinople might easily create an entirely different situation.

The Latest Demands.

Constantinople, November 6.

The Angora representative has handed the Allied High Commissioners a second Note stating that warships of all nationalities must ask for authorisation to pass the Straits and must salute the new Government in port. A further Note demands that the S. S. take over the railways.

There is no further news with regard to the abdication of the Sultan, but it is believed the British authorities are taking measures to protect the Sultan and the Heir to the Throne.

Allied Refusal.

Later.

The Allied High Commissioners have categorically refused to discuss the Angora demand regarding warships, as being contrary to the terms of the original armistice and the Mudania Convention.

What Angora Wants

Constantinople, November 6.

A message from Angora says the National Assembly has instructed Ismet Pasha to secure the acceptance by the Lausanne Conference of the following points:—Firstly, that the frontiers of Turkey be in accordance with the National Pact; secondly, payment of an indemnity by Greece; thirdly, suppression of the Capitulations; fourthly, modification of the frontiers of Iraq; and, fifthly, the complete independence of Turkey, financially, economically and politically.

Refet Pasha has suppressed the Turkish Senate. The Allied Generals met Refet Pasha to-day.

Sultan Attempts to Escape.

Berne, November 6.

It is reported from Constantinople that the Sultan has attempted to depart, but that the inhabitants prevented him.

Guarding the Sultan.

Constantinople, November 6.

The British High Commissioner, at the Sultan's request, visited him in the afternoon. British troops since yesterday have been assisting to guard the Palace. The second Angora Note, mentioned earlier, stated that the regulations of the National Assembly provided that only one warship at a time could enter Turkish ports, and then only if properly authorised.

Effect of Exchanges.

The London and foreign exchanges are nervous and weak, owing to the developments at Constantinople. French francs are quoted at 65.90 and Belgian at 11.90 while German marks are offered, in fear of reparations developments, at the low record of 31.00 to the £.

American Help to Greeks.

Athens, November 6.

It is officially stated that the American Near East Relief Committee has spent 23 million drachmas in assisting Greek refugees since the Smyrna disaster.

JAPANESE STEAMER SUNK.

Crew Arrive In Hongkong.

The Heiyo Maru, a wooden steamer of 900 tons, chartered by the Y.K.K., and bound from Osaka to Dairen, via Moji, with general cargo, met heavy weather at the end of last month and after being buffeted by the elements for some days foundered on the night of Nov. 2nd-3rd, in lat. 36.45 north, long. 122.47 east.

Luckily the Chinese steamer Tai Lee was in the vicinity at the time. She saw the Heiyo Maru's signal of distress on the night of Nov. 2nd, and after standing by for some hours, took off the crew of twenty-four in the early hours of Nov. 3rd, when it was seen that the Japanese vessel was doomed.

The Tai Lee arrived in port with the shipwrecked men yesterday.

BANQUE INDUSTRIELLE.

Bill Passed by Commission.

Paris, Nov. 6.—Responding to a request by M. Poincare and an order not to delay discussion of the Banque Industrielle Bill, the Finance Commission has adopted the same without amendment.—Reuter.

RADIO STATIONS.

To be Provided in China.

Shanghai, November 6.—The President of the American Federal Telegraph Company, Mr. Schwerin, accompanied by Mr. Moss, who arranged a contract with the Chinese Government to construct four radio stations in China, and two radio engineers have arrived in Shanghai this morning from the United States. Mr. Moss will remain in China until the stations are completed.—Reuter.

CHINA AND PANAMA.

Proposed Legation.

Peking, Nov. 6.—It is understood that the Government is contemplating the establishment of a Legation at Panama, promoting the present Consul General as Charge d'Affaires.—Reuter.

NEW COMMERCIAL PORT.

Peking, Nov. 6.—A mandate approves the Cabinet's recent decision to open Heuchow, in Kiangsu, as a commercial Port.—Reuter.

BATHING TRAGEDY.

Y.M.C.A. Boy Drowned in Tank.

A tragedy occurred at the Chinese Y.M.C.A. headquarters building at Bridges Street yesterday afternoon, when a Chinese lad was drowned in the swimming tank.

Swimming classes were being conducted, and the second batch of pupils were making ready to take their turn when it was noticed that a suit of clothing had been left in the dressing room before their arrival. The conclusion arrived at was that one of the pupils included in the first batch was still on the premises. There was no-one swimming in the bath, however, and after a search of the building had yielded no results, the thought occurred to the boys that probably he might have been drowned in the tank. After some diving the dead body of Wu Kik-yin, a fourteen-year-old lad, was recovered from the bottom of the tank, which contained about eight feet of water.

Examination showed that there was a bruise on the forehead of the deceased. It is surmised that whilst swimming in the tank with his classmates Wu was seized with cramp and sank unnoticed by the rest of the class.

The remains were removed to the Public Mortuary.

STABBED THREE TIMES.

Attack on a Timber Merchant.

With three stab wounds in various parts of his body, a timber merchant, named Chu Chung-hi, is now a patient at the Government Civil Hospital, where he was removed, following a ferocious attack carried out by a number of men in Wanchai.

He was going up a lane leading from the Wanchai Post Office to Kennedy Road yesterday afternoon when he was attacked without warning, and before he could recover from his surprise to offer resistance, he had been stabbed three times. The wounds were serious and his condition is thought to be critical. He is unable to identify his assailants or to describe the direction they took after committing the attack.

OBITUARY.

Mr. J. Y. V. Vernon.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. J. Y. V. Vernon, which occurred on November 4th, in a nursing home at Varese, Italy.

The late Mr. Vernon was formerly a well-known figure in Hongkong, being a partner in the firm of Vernon and Smyth, share and general brokers, formerly Chater and Vernon. The deceased gentleman spent some thirty years of his life in this Colony. He retired in 1910 and went to live on the Continent, chiefly in the South of France.

Mr. Vernon was 71 years of age when he died. He has a widow still living and his daughter is Mrs. H. W. Bird. Two sons were killed during the war. Much sympathy will be felt for his relatives in their bereavement.

MACAO BOMBS.

Another Explosion.

A report comes from Macao that another bomb exploded yesterday at the foot of The Monte, but caused very little damage. This and similar previous outrages are attributed to the work of the disappointed labour leaders, but very little effect is caused on the morale of the business people, who are carrying on and keeping their shops open as usual.

MOTOR HOLD-UP STORY.

Nothing But a Practical Joke.

There were sensational reports in town this morning to the effect that a party of motorists, including a well-known local gentleman and a number of ladies, were returning from Popes Bay last night when they were held up by a band of robbers.

The story told was that the car was stopped and the ladies were relieved of all their jewellery; that the gasoline was all taken from the tank; and that the car was then left on the roadside, the party being compelled to find their way home as best they could.

On learning of the report, we got into touch with the gentleman concerned, but were assured that "it was all a joke," carried out by friends of the party. Exactly what happened we were unable to gather. It will satisfy the gossip-mongers, however, to learn that the reports of Mark Twain's death "greatly exaggerated." The whole thing seems to have been a little practical joke.

HOUSE COOLIE SENTENCED.

Theft of Jewellery and Money.

Investigations carried out by the police into the theft of a deposit receipt for $750, various pieces of jewellery of the value of $308 and $222 in cash, reported yesterday as having occurred at No. 68, Caine Road, was followed by a very prompt arrest. The prisoner turned out to be a house-coolie who, according to Sergeant Fender, had been employed at the house since March of this year. The stolen property was divided into small lots and concealed in various parts of the roof. All except a ring and a sum of $150 had been recovered in the search. As regards the deposit receipt, which was lost, Sergeant Fender said there would be no difficulty in explaining the position to the Bank and getting the money returned.

Mr. E. W. Hamilton, who tried the case to-day, gave the prisoner six weeks' hard labour.

THE FUKIEN REVOLT.

Chan King-ming's Appeal.

Our Canton Correspondent states that General Chan King-ming has requested the commander of the Kiangsi forces which are camped at Shiu Mu, in Fukien, to co-operate with the Cantonese troops in a simultaneous attack.

Our correspondent further reports that at a general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in Swatow it was decided to boycott Canton banknotes. Representatives were elected to inform the local authorities that if they are forced to take the notes, a general strike will be declared.

GOOD GOING.

Empress of Canada's Feat.

A noteworthy run was made by the Empress of Canada on this voyage southbound from Wosung. The steamer left Wosung at 7 p.m. on Saturday, the 4th, instant, and entered Hongkong harbour at noon on Monday, thus making a run of 41 hours for the 820 miles. The ship was not in any sense "opened up," neither was she striving to establish a record. A series of fine runs by the Empress of Canada may be looked for now that the ship is settling into her stride.

OUR COMPETITION.

Two Successful Forecasts.

Last week's Football Competition brought in a large number of coupons. There were ten League games included in the coupon, and two competitors succeeded in giving correct forecasts of the matches. They were—

Frank P. Anslow.

Murray Barnack.

S. Edgar.

6, Broadwood Terrace.

In accordance with the rules, the prize of $50 is equally divided between these two competitors. If they will call at the Telegraph office, we shall be pleased to hand them $25 each.

There were several competitors who gave nine correct forecasts out of ten; whilst two entrants sent in coupons with not one match correct.

For the guidance of competitors, there are a few points that need emphasising again.

Several entrants were disqualified through their coupons being received on Sunday and Monday. All entries must reach this office by noon on Saturday. Competitors are asked to mark their envelopes "Football."

A number of coupons were received with no names of competitors thereon. This was possibly due to a batch of coupons being pinned or gummed together and only the top one signed. Each coupon must bear the competitor's name. Do not pin or paste your coupons together.

The competition only covers matches specified on the coupons. Do not add other teams.

(Secretary).

The Chairman, dealing with the estimates, mentioned that they had been prepared in a new form this year, which he thought was considerably simpler than the old one and would commend itself to members. Another Inspector for the vernacular schools had been appointed and would be of very great assistance. He was very strongly of opinion that in strengthening vernacular education what was wanted most of all was more trained masters, and, secondly, more trained inspectors. If there was to be any continued advance in the extension of vernacular education, as they hoped there would be, it was important that they should have a strong Inspectorial staff. Referring to British staffs, the Chairman said they had had several masters out during the year, but were still short. On the other hand, the staff of assistant mistresses had been very largely increased from 11 to 17. Seven or eight mistresses had arrived in the last few months. The Chairman spoke of the frequency with which changes took place, either through marriage or sickness, amongst the women teachers, and mentioned that during the present year there had been three head mistresses at the Victoria School, the result of illnesses.

Vernacular Teachers.

Speaking of the Vernacular Normal School, the Chairman explained that it was formed two years ago with the idea of providing a supply of more or less trained teachers for the vernacular schools of the Colony. The two years' course at the School finished at the end of the present year. In theory they ought to have turned out 20 men and 20 women, but as a matter of fact he was afraid there would not be anything like that number. It had been rather hard to persuade the men, especially, to complete the full course. They did not yet realise what it would lead to.
They were not quite sure that after they had spent two years going through the course they would find remunerative employment at the end of it. He hoped that results would show that these fears were illusory. He thought that they would want most of the graduates for vacancies in his (the Chairman's) own department, and any others who he thought, have very little difficulty in finding work. There did not seem to be much difficulty in getting ladies to finish the course. He believed that quite a number were completing it with a view to improving and extending their education, and not so much for getting their knowledge to money value. The subsidies for vernacular schools in Hongkong had been increased by several thousand dollars, and he would like the vote to be still further increased; but was assured by Mr. Cavalier and the Sub-Committee that they would not be likely to derive any particular benefit from it at present.
When they got more masters and mistresses from the Normal School they would doubtless see a great improvement in the schools, and be able to increase the subsidies very considerably.

Teaching Shorthand.

The next question on the agenda was the advisability of teaching shorthand at Kowloon British School.
The Chairman said he presumed everybody had read the debate on the Estimates and had noticed that the Senior Unofficial member had recommended the teaching of shorthand at Kowloon School.
He ventured to say at the time that he was not convinced that shorthand was a desirable subject to be taught at the School, but it was certainly a matter which the Board might very well take into consideration. He had been in communication with the Headmaster, who had written that he had talked the matter over with one of the lady teachers, who was a shorthand expert, and she was of the opinion that the minimum time which would have to be devoted to it per week was two periods of three quarters of an hour each. She suggested that it

THE FURTHER PROBLEM OF TURKEY.

Constantinople, Nov. 6.
At the conclusion of the meeting of Allied High Commissioners and Generals, Reuter learns that a reply was despatched to the Angora Government categorically refusing to accede to the demand for the evacuation of Constantinople.

The Angora Note says that following the abolition of personal sovereignty in Turkey, the population of Constantinople have turned enthusiastically and spontaneously towards the Government and the National Assembly. The latter does not intend militarily to overstep the stipulations of the Mudania arrangement regarding the number of gendarmes that may be despatched for the purpose of the maintenance of order. It hopes the Allies will give the demand favourable consideration.

THE AMERICAN ELECTIONS.

New York, Nov. 6.
The issues in most States in the forthcoming elections are many and involved, consequently the local often outweigh the national considerations; but in a number of States the candidates are appealing on the Republican record, and the consequent results are expected to reveal the popular feelings on the new Tariff, Foreign Debts, Ship Subsidy, Prohibition, Labour, Taxation and other economic questions. Wall Street is particularly anxious at present for a clear answer one way or another in order that the Administration may be encouraged to pursue a more definite policy for the next two years in its efforts at the readjustment of post-war conditions.

PROHIBITIONISTS EXCITED.

New York, Nov. 6.
The prohibition authorities are circulating the press with sensational accounts of the presence of a fleet of over a hundred vessels laden with whisky off New Jersey, just outside the three mile limit. The authorities express the opinion that the vessels are taking advantage of the recent ruling forbidding the officials interference outside territorial waters. The fleet is said to be under skilful direction and well-protected by an international organisation of bootleggers, who manage to land whisky supplies in small boats at unguarded points. The authorities are mobilising hundreds of small craft in New York, Atlantic City and elsewhere, in the hope of interception of the smugglers before they reach land.

FOUR NEW RADIO STATIONS.

Shanghai, Nov. 6.
Mr. Schwerin, the President of the Federal Telegraph Co. of San Francisco, accompanied by Mr. Moss and two radio engineers, arrived here this morning from the United States.

Mr. Moss arranged a contract some two years ago with the Central Government at Peking for the erection of four radio stations in China. Mr. Moss will remain in China until the stations are completed.

should be started in Class 4 and taken after school hours as an extra subject. The Chairman said that if it was taken after school hours as an extra subject it would not concern the Board much except insofar as it was likely to interfere with the boys' preparation for their examinations. He thought the real point was whether it should be taken in favour of the subject should be abandoned.

British Boys and Girls.

Mr. Teeddale Mackintosh said he had read the debate on the subject and had noticed with some amusement the alarm that appeared to be in the minds of some of the honourable members and of a section of the Press with reference to the education of British boys and girls; and as the Chairman had referred to the Government debate he made no apology for describing the motion as to the advisability of teaching shorthand in Kowloon British School as a very amateur attempt to deal with the requirements of British children in the Colony.
He quite agreed with what the Chairman said on that occasion that it was useless to teach shorthand except in an intensive way.
He wanted to know what was the subject of teaching shorthand at all at the School. All attempts to bolster up the education of British children in Hongkong would fail until they had answered this question: "What is our motive in providing education for British children in the Colony?"

The Chairman.

Really Mr. Mackintosh, we must have notice of that question. We must confine ourselves to the subject under discussion.

What Kind of Education?

Mr. Mackintosh: I accept your ruling, Sir, but I do suggest that you cannot in fairness consider this point as to whether you are going to teach shorthand in a British School, until you have decided what kind of education you intend to give to British children in the Colony. I suggest, Sir, with great respect, that it is wrong to try and deal with a detail of this sort until we have in front of us a clear programme as to the kind of education we want to give to our British children.

Mr. Wylie expressed himself against the teaching of shorthand in Kowloon British School. He thought it would be simply a waste of time. He entirely associated himself with the remarks the Chairman made on the subject during the course of the Budget debate. Shorthand was a subject which required intensive study, and if it was intended to EDUCATION BOARD.

Mr. Mackintosh: Again, I feel I ought to protest against any discussion of a new building until we know what our policy is. It is useless to discuss the building until we know the type of school and type of education we want.

Mr. Wyllie said he did not know what type of School the Chairman had in mind to take the place of Victoria School, but he thought that Quarry Bay, where there were something over 100 children, should be kept in mind. In the past the Victoria School had been very largely recruited from Quarry Bay and he suggested that the claims of that district be taken into consideration when they went into the question of the site for the new School. The Chairman: Are you suggesting that the School be removed to Quarry Bay?

Mr. Wyllie replied that he did not go so far as that. He thought that if the new School was not going to be any nearer than Quarry Bay, the Board might consider the question of having a small temporary School there, somewhat similar to an Anglo-Chinese School, had visited recently.

The Chairman remarked on the difficulties of supplying the educational needs of a British population dotted along the enormous distance from West Point to Shaugwan. The problems were: a central school; a school at one end or the other; a school at both ends; or a school at the centre and at both ends. The bigger the schools were, the better from the point of view of economical staffing.

Asked to put his suggestion in the form of a resolution, Mr. Wyllie said he was not recommending that Victoria School be removed to Quarry Bay.

Mr. Mackintosh thought that too much stress was laid upon geography when considering sites for schools, rather than in thinking about the form of education required. "We are considering British children," continued Mr. Mackintosh, "therefore, we may reasonably make some kind of comparison with conditions at home. I doubt very much whether parents at home choose a school for geographical reasons. That is, to my mind, the great mistake we are all making in Hongkong. You have a community at Quarry Bay which consists of children of parents employed in 'B. & S.'—practically a 'B. & S.' community. These children will require quite a different type of education from the children whose parents are in a different station and walk in life, and we must bear that in mind when we attack a problem of this sort."

The Chairman suggested the appointment of a small sub-committee to consider the question. What Mr. Mackintosh had said was very true, theoretically, but it was extremely difficult to get mothers to see that their objections—to letting their children travel some miles by tram and then by rickshaw, get a "scratcher" meal and perhaps get wet during the journey—were mere side issues and that they ought to look steadily at the quality of the education. It was very hard to persuade people not to expect a school near their doors.

Mr. Mackintosh: In that case they must pay for it.

The Chairman: They do pay.

Mr. Mackintosh: They don't pay, the Government pays. Let them have a private school.

The Chairman renewed his suggestion of a sub-committee to get the facts about the available British child population near Victoria School case? They are all linked together.

The Chairman: Yes, if they won't take too long to consider it. I think they will report on the small question sooner.

Mr. Mackintosh: I do not want to come to a decision on the smaller question without coming to a decision on the whole question.

The Chairman: Well, unless you are prepared to recommend that the British Schools shall not prepare for University examinations, there is not much prospect of changing, materially, the nature of the education they give. I think we can advise the Government as to Victoria School without raising a very wide theoretical question.

Mr. Mackintosh: I am sorry, Sir, I did not realise it was a theoretical question; I thought it was a very practical question.

The Chairman: Will you propose a resolution?

Mr. Mackintosh: I propose that a sub-committee be appointed to consider the whole question of the education of British children in the Colony, before any new expenditure is recommended in connection with British education.

The Chairman: When is your committee going to report?

Mr. Mackintosh: I could tell you that after the committee had been appointed.

The Chairman: The point I raise is rather a practical one. We have got to find a building for these children before the other is pulled down, and tell the Government what we want.

Mr. Mackintosh: I quite agree, but I am not sure we can tell them unless we bring forward a scheme which will embrace all the British children in the Colony.

Mr. Wyllie seconded the motion which was then carried.

The Chairman proposed Mr. Mackintosh as a member of the sub-committee; Dr. T. W. Pearce and Mr. Wyllie were also nominated.

The Chairman: I think the Department ought to be represented.

Mr. Mackintosh: I propose Mr. Ralphs.

These members were accordingly appointed.

Scholarships for Girls.

That the Board of Education should recommend to the Government that a scholarship in education in the University of Hongkong be opened to competition by girl candidates from all schools in the Colony, to be awarded on the results of the Matriculation Examination in November in each year and, if possible, the first be awarded on the results of the examination to be held in November, 1922.

Mr. Mackintosh reminded the Board that, just a year ago, he proposed that scholarships for boys and girls from the grant-in-aid school should be awarded in the University and the Board's recommendation was accepted by the Government. Since then the higher education of girls had become more important; one always knew it was only a question of time before the question of the education of girls in Hongkong and China would have to be tackled. The time had come more quickly, even, than he expected. In the entries for examination to be held this month there were eight girl candidates for Matriculation; 36 for the Senior Local and 72 for the Junior Local Examinations. The 72 Junior Local examinees became Senior Local next year and the 36 Senior Locals became Matriculation candidates next year, subject to matings by the way. "If I were a mathematician," remarked Mr. Mackintosh, "I should divide these figures, at least, by two. The eight girl candidates for Matriculation, this year, were all competitors for the scholarship opened to boys and girls and they represented practically all the schools in the Colony. It was clear that girls had a very poor chance of winning the scholarship while they were competing against boys. Boys were able to offer subjects like physics and chemistry which the girls could not offer; and, further, those subjects counted just double the marks awarded for drawing, history and geography which the girls could take. The boys also had a tremendous advantage in mathematics at which they had spent more years than had the girls. Mr. Mackintosh referred to the Director's remarks at prize-givings in favour of encouraging girls to matriculate and added that a scholarship open to girls would have the same encouraging effect upon girls' schools as the one already offered had upon boys' schools. There was a tremendous number of candidates for the one scholarship already founded. The Colony suffered from a great dearth of women teachers and must begin to train them. For a supply they would have to go to girls trained in Chinese or grant-in-aid, and perhaps most of all to the grant-in-aid schools. It might be said that one scholarship might not produce one teacher, but it would have a very real influence in persuading girls to take an interest in a vocation and in vocational training.

Dr. T. W. Pearce seconded. He said that, speaking from long experience, girls' schools were one of the most satisfactory aspects of education in the Colony and they deserved the encouragement of a scholarship. The Colonial Government did a great thing when it gave an impetus, years ago, to girls' education and a great object lesson—in the words of Sir John Davis when Governor—had thereby been provided for China. A repeated stimulus was, however, necessary from time to time, and such an impetus would be a girls' scholarship at the University; especially valuable at this time of change and movement of men's and women's minds.

The resolution was carried and the proceedings concluded.

FEMALE CRIMES OF JAPAN.

Crimes committed by women in Japan are increasing annually, 2,024 cases being reported during last year, according to the Department of Justice. The most numerous cases were of thieving and gambling, totalling 493 and 401 cases respectively, of which 90 per cent. of the offenders were shoplifters. Some of them proved to be professional shop-lifters, but most of them admitted they had committed the crime unprofitably and not out of a desire to satisfy their vanity. Murders total 194, half of them being infanticide cases and the other half crimes with jealousy as the motive. The authorities of the Department of Justice declare that women are becoming more ingenious in crime owing to the fact that they are becoming more intellectual.

THE CUTTY SARK HOME AGAIN.

Famous Clipper to Remain in an English Port.

A shipping transaction of national interest has just been carried through, writes a correspondent in the London Observer. Capt. Downman, a retired Mercantile Marine officer, of Travis some, Flushing, near Falmouth, has secured for £3,750, the famous old tea clipper, the Cutty Sark, from her Portuguese owner, Messrs. Ferreira. This sum does not represent the commercial worth of the craft, but the Cutty Sark has an historical importance.

Capt. Downman, who is a native of Skene, Scotland, and came to live in Cornwall about eighteen months ago, was for twenty-seven years a captain in the Dale Line, Liverpool, and when an apprentice boy sailed in the Hawksdale in 1894, when that boat made an attempt to race the Cutty Sark whilst on a voyage from Sydney to London. "Needless to say," observed the late sea captain to me when I interviewed him, "the Cutty Sark left us to windward in a few seconds."

When the Cutty Sark put into Falmouth for repairs to damage suffered while coming down Channel in February last year, Capt. Downman took an interest in the craft, and opened negotiations for her purchase. There were many difficulties in the way, and on the Portuguese owners discovering that the ship was desired for sentimental reasons the price was immediately put up. Capt. Downman was persistent, and mainly through the instrumentality of Thomas De Paiva Raposo, Lisbon, became the purchaser at the figure mentioned.

It is the intention of Captain Downman, when the ship arrives in Falmouth Harbour, to re-rig her, so far as possible, to her old tea-clipper style (she now being barquentine rigged), and to berth her in a position in the harbour where she can be easily seen.

RECORD RUN.

Built in Dumbarton in 1869, the Cutty Sark has a gross tonnage of 911, and is 212 ft. long, the builders being Messrs. Scott and Linton. Of the numerous fleet which loaded tea in China, and made racing passages home, she is the only one still afloat and carrying a cargo. In 1895 she was sold to the Lisbon firm of Ferreira and Co., when her name was changed to Ferreira. There are many stories about her records, but the one that appears to be authentic is that she accomplished 363 knots in fourteen hours. A race was arranged in 1872 between the famous old clipper and Thermopylae. The latter was considered by most sailors the fastest sailing ship ever launched. According to Basil Lubbock, whose knowledge of the China tea clippers is authoritative, the Thermopylae in this great race went to the windward like a witch, and was equally good off the wind. With the wind right aft she easily logged 13, "and possibly the only vessel that could beat her in strong favouring winds was her great rival the Cutty Sark."

Both vessels left Shanghai on the same day, and within an hour or two each other. The passage was chequered; they were held up by gales, water-spouts, and calms. The Cutty Sark maintained a good lead for a time, but then there was rudder trouble, during which she was "holed" for more than six days. The Thermopylae was the first to arrive in the Downs on October 12, the Cutty Sark coming in on the 18th. The honours of the race belonged to the Cutty Sark, and but for the accident it seemed certain she would have reached port first.

TO SYDNEY IN 68 DAYS.

The tea trade became so bad in 1868 that many of the clippers had considerable difficulty in getting a cargo home, so the Cutty Sark made trips to China and Australia. Leaving the East India Docks on December 12, 1877, she arrived at Sydney on February 18, making the passage in sixty-eight days.

An officer in the Mercantile Marine, in Lubbock's book, "China Sea Clippers," describes the Cutty Sark as seen in New Orleans some years ago. He says: "The mellow, golden light of the sun shining on her spars and rigging seemed to transform her and clothe her in some of her ancient glory. Hidden were the marks of decay, and she once looked the ship of speed and beauty."

STAR THEATRE.

Love Insured.

Our local young men desirous of keeping pace with fashion need look no farther than Bryant Washburn's Paramount pictures for authentic hints on what is correct and up-to-date. For Bryant Washburn, star in the Paramount picture, "Love Insurance," which comes to the Star Theatre today is conceded to be the best dressed man in motion pictures. In every detail his clothes are in faultless taste, well made from the best materials in the latest mode. Any one who follows his example cannot fail to be correctly dressed. Leaving dramatic merit out of consideration, any one of his pictures might well be called an illustrated lecture on dress and deportment.

This story, "Love Insurance," concerns a young insurance agent in the employ of Loyds who is sent out by that firm to promote and encourage the wedding of an English nobleman to an American heiress, his employers having issued a policy to the nobleman insuring him in a large sum in case the girl refused to marry him. When the young agent himself falls in love with the heiress, things begin to happen fast.

An exceptionally large and talented cast of players support the star.

A FATAL AFFRAY.

Sanitary Board Coolie Charged.

Chiu Lin and Lum Wing, both Sanitary Board coolies, were charged on remand before Mr. E. W. Hamilton yesterday afternoon with the murder of a street coolie, named Tam Tat, in Square Street on the evening of the 25th. October.

The Assistant Crown Solicitor, Mr. T. M. Hazlerigg, prosecuted. No evidence being offered against Chiu Lin the Magistrate discharged the first defendant, who was defended by Mr. C. A. S. Ross.

Outlining the case Mr. Hazlerigg stated that about 7 p.m. on the 25th Tam Tat appeared outside 6 Square Street and sat down on the pavement to talk to the mistress of the shop and served her employees. A quarter of an hour later the defendant arrived with three other men, all dressed in the khaki uniforms of the Sanitary Board coolies, and, without any word or argument, all four went straight up to the deceased and assaulted him. Evidence would be given to show that three of the men struck Tam Tat with their fists, and the defendant used a dagger. Immediately after the affray the assailants escaped into Ladder Street, and the defendant was seen to turn up the hill. A short while later Detective Inspector Willis arrived on the scene and attended to the removal of the wounded man to hospital, where his wounds subsequently took the dying depositions of the man Tam Tat died at 9 a.m. next morning. The post-mortem examination, performed by Dr. McKenny, revealed four wounds on the deceased, one of them penetrating the abdomen and causing death.

A search was made for the defendant, but without result. Mr. Hazlerigg said that the accused was at that time employed as a cleansing coolie at the disinfecting station, Tai Ping Shan. He did not turn up to work after the 25th, and was arrested on the 27th by Detective Inspector Willis in 39 Yee Wo Street. He was found in the cockpit.

An Ancient Grudge.

On the question of motive Mr. Hazlerigg said that he was not in a position to offer any evidence other than the defendant's own statement which he made in reply to the charge. The statement reads: "About ten years ago he was an enemy of mine. He struck me before. Owing to recent affairs I gave him some warning. He was angry with me. He struck me first. In return I struck him and stabbed him with the dagger. As soon as I stabbed him I ran away. I don't know whether he is dead or alive.

His Worship asked whether it was fitting for him to conduct these proceedings in view of the fact that it was he who took the dying depositions.

Mr. Hazlerigg replied that as he did not intend to refer to the dying depositions it was quite proper that his Worship hear this case.

After several witnesses had given evidence the case was adjourned.

HONGKONG, 7th Nov., 1932.

VON HINTZE'S ROLE.

Our recent exposure of the Sun Yat-sen letters has come to the notice of diplomatic circles in most parts of the world. From news we published yesterday it will have been noticed that the German Embassy in Washington got into touch with the Berlin Foreign Office on the subject, but the latter declared that it had at no time considered the question of an alliance between Germany, Russia and China. A Berlin message which we also published showed that both the German Government and Admiral von Hintze denied all knowledge of the reported negotiations with Sun Yat-sen. These denials were to be expected, but they fail to convince, inasmuch as Dr. Sun, although not admitting in so many words that he has been negotiating on the subject, has declared that he favours a closer rapprochement with Germany and Russia.

What is particularly interesting about the Berlin message is the disclosure of the fact that Admiral von Hintze has twice visited Russia within a year, travelling under the assumed name of Dr. Mueller, even attempting to preserve his incognito towards Germans with whom he was well acquainted, and that he conducted mysterious negotiations with the Soviet authorities, though little has leaked out as to the nature of these conversations. There is significance, however, in the statement that he was known to be labouring towards closer relations with the Soviet Government. These visits of von Hintze to Russia tally with the report made to Dr. Sun by his emissary to the effect that the former German Minister to Peking had been on a special mission to the seat of Soviet authority; whilst his use of an assumed name gives point to the emissary's intimation that on coming to China he would adopt a like ruse.

We think it will be agreed that the suspicions aroused by our publication of the secret documents are materially strengthened by the points referred to above, which indicate a strong probability that von Hintze, on his missions to Russia, had in view some such scheme as the alliance suggested by the Sun-Yat-sen letters. At any rate, Sun's emissary definitely stated that the Admiral was working towards the attainment of that end, and, what is more, that he had lent his assistance to the scheme. These statements are in no wise shaken by the news which we published yesterday; indeed, they are rather confirmed than otherwise from the fact that other statements made by Sun's representative in Berlin are borne out thereby.

Unrbed Ambition.

Events in Turkey are proceeding with dramatic swiftness and on the face of the telegrams received yesterday and last night, it would seem that Mustafa Kemal and those associated with him in the Ankara Government are determined to exert their newly-found authority to its farthest limits. It says something for their temerity when they order the Allies to clear out of Constantinople—a city over which they have not yet secured full control, and the home of the reigning monarch they seek to depose. Last week, after the Mudania Agreement had been signed and it had been agreed that the whole matter of Turkish influence was to be discussed at the Lausanne Conference, it looked as though a peaceful settlement was to come out of the recent disturbance; but now that there is wide dissension in Turkey itself and the Ankara authorities have adopted a truculent and dictatorial attitude towards the Allies there is every possibility that we have not yet seen the end of fighting. The Allied High Commissioners have categorically refused to evacuate Constantinople, but the people of Constantinople are reported enthusiastically to have turned towards the new National Assembly. It is to be hoped that the people of that romantic city will not be the authors of incidents likely to lead to Allied military action, yet the Turk was ever fond of antagonistic demonstrations and it will be surprising if everything passes off quietly. The Allied High Commission has a right to Constantinople, for it is there as the guardian of hard-won privileges. As we said yesterday, Kemal has done little else than reveal himself in the light of an adventurer, posing the while as the democratic leader of his unfortunate countrymen. It would be a thousand pities if a movement in which there was much good at the start was rendered abortive and disastrous because of uncurbed ambition. Kemal is in too great a hurry and he may have to receive a needed check.

Kaiser Still?

"Kaiser Bill" died with the revolution in Germany at the end of the war. A Republic was established, Wilhelm the Second fled inconspicuously to Holland, and all that the world knew after was that there was living at Doorn a private gentleman who had once been the Imperial Kaiser of Germany. But the world must have thought wrongly, for "Wilhelm the Second" was married on Sunday to a Princess named Hermine. At least that is how the man who went through the ceremony signed himself. There are those who would say that he had no right to sign that way, that he was guilty of false pretences, but it is as clear as daylight that the gentleman concerned still thinks he is the Kaiser, although he has no Kingdom. There were crowds, and gilt covers, a massive table ornament bearing the letters "W.L.R." and many other little reminders of William's late Imperial days. Surely, it must be hard for this exile to keep up the gigantic bluff of a Kingship, even to his own conscience. Perhaps the world can afford to laugh at his folly, leaving him his fancy as a compensation for the lost glory of other days. But there should be no forgetfulness of the fact that the Kaiser as such is dead, and that he must be forced to remain so. The Hohenzollern cloud has been lifted from Europe through the blood and sacrifice of Europe's young manhood; that cloud must not be given any chance to cast another shadow.

The health return for the past week shows two cases of plague (both fatal), two of enteric fever (one fatal), and one non-fatal case each of small-pox, diphtheria, cerebro-spinal fever, and purpura. All were Chinese excepting one Indian case of enteric. There was also one Chinese death from influenza.

A gentleman who left here at noon on Thursday last by the "Empress of Asia" returned to the Colony yesterday by the "Empress of Canada," arriving at 1 p.m. He had nine hours at Woosung and Shanghai and was able to do a certain amount of business etc., at Shanghai. The Cynads left Woosung at 7 p.m. on Saturday, the 4th. inst. Can you beat it?

We take the following from the St. Andrew's Church magazine:—"We were extremely glad to see in the daily papers that the Government has at last invited tenders for the building of the Hospital in Kowloon. The Peninsula has no greater need and we earnestly hope that the work will be executed with all possible speed. During the month of September the Vicar visited 49 Kowloon people in the different hospitals in Hongkong."

DR. DE COLBERT.

Wife's Statement as Evidence.

Our Canton correspondent states that Mrs. de Colbert has personally tendered a lengthy statement to the chief of the tribunal with regard to her husband's career. This gives an account of his past activities and contains an absolute denial of the suggestion that he has been engaged in bomb-making.

It is stated that the Judge has agreed to this statement being used as one of the documents in the case. In view of Dr. de Colbert's declaration that the tools found in his quarters at the Hospital where he was arrested were for carpentry work, the Magistrate who has charge of the case is sending for an expert from the Canton Arsenal to obtain his views as to whether the tools seized could be used for the manufacture of bombs.

CORRESPONDENCE.

(To the Editor of the "Hongkong Telegraph.")

Red Poppies.

Sir,—I think the Ex-Active Service Men are to be congratulated on their excellent idea of selling poppies in aid of the M.C.L. at their dinner on Armistice night. Last year thousands of these flowers (made by disabled soldiers) were sold in London to swell the funds for the men who were broken in the War, and I am glad to hear that the same scheme is to be carried out this year in Hongkong on Armistice day. Practically the whole of the civilised world will always think of "Flanders Fields" whenever they see a bunch of poppies; even Shakespeare, had he lived in the twentieth century, might have written "Poppies" instead of "Rosemary" for remembrance. It is wonderful how poppies thrive in France. The summer after the war they grew everywhere, in the cultivated land, at the edge of the little allotments, in the fields where the tall rye-grass waved and beside the blue cornflowers they swayed gracefully in the breeze. In the devastated area they flourished where it was impossible for anything else to take root, at the edge of shell-holes, where the desolation was horrible they waved brightly and triumphantly, larger and more beautiful than they had ever been before.

They seem symbolical of the spirit of France, bright, beautiful and wonderfully cheerful; instead of thinking mournfully of the past with all its horror and sorrow the French people, especially the poorer ones, are looking forward to the future with hope and gladness. I met an old peasant woman in 1919 in the Somme Valley and after admiring her garden I told her how I loved the poppies. She said "Mais oui, they have never been so plentiful;" then, lowering her voice to a whisper, she murmured in French:—"Folks say they are the souls of our brave dead which have come back to cheer us on our way."

Whether we went to the war or stayed at home, whether we belong to the British Legion or the Ex-Active Service Men's Association, if we have any grievances or wrongs let us forget them on this "Day of Remembrance" and live in a spirit worthy of the men "Whose names liveth for Evermore."

Yours etc.,

F. C. H.

PIANO RECITAL.

Mr. Harry Ore's Pupils at City Hall.

Mr. Harry Ore's pupils gave a thoroughly enjoyable pianoforte recital at the City Hall yesterday afternoon. Beethoven, Arensky, Debussy, Schumann, Grieg and numerous other well-known composers' works were represented, and the excellent way in which they were interpreted showed great promise on the part of the pupils and reflected much credit on their master.

The programme commenced with "Improvisations on a Gavotte by Gluck" (Reinecke), a well-rendered concerted item by Mrs. Adams and Mr. Ore. The Misses H. and R. Irving furnished two duets—Beethoven's "Gavotte in F major" and Moszkowsky's "Italy"—and a number of solos. Very enjoyable items were Moszkowsky's "Poland" and "Hungary," two duets furnished by Miss Adeline Remedios (primo) and Mr. Ore (secondo). Afterwards Miss Remedios gave Bach's "Fugue in D major," "Minuet in D major" (Mozart-Palmgren) and Tchaikovsky's "Slightride" (November) from "Seasons."

Judging by these pieces, Miss Remedios bids fair to become a very accomplished pianist; her technique was good and she interpreted the composers with much feeling and sympathy. "La Chasse" (Paganini-Liszt), "Jardins sous le pin" (Debussy) and "The Lark" (Glinka-Balakirev) were furnished with much skill by Miss J. Ram, who also showed a great deal of promise. A duet, "Symphonie in A minor" (Grieg), by Miss Ram and Mr. Ore, was greatly appreciated, as was also Mr. Ore's rendering of Chopin's "Fantasia Impromptu" which item concluded an excellent musical programme.

LOCAL WEDDING.

Firman—Leggett.

The wedding took place at St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon, yesterday, of Mr. Frank W. Firman, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Firman, of Thorpe St. Andrew's, Norwich, and Miss Rosa Leggett, youngest daughter of Mr. J. Leggett and of the late Mrs. Leggett, of Watton, Norfolk. The Rev. G. R. Lindsey officiated.

The bride, who was given away by Mr. R. J. Everest, was attired in white crepe charmesuse, with veil and orange blossom, and she carried a bouquet of white lilies and white roses. She had as her bridesmaid Miss Peggy Everest, who wore a dress of white satin charmesuse and hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink roses and white chrysanthemums. Master Everest was page-boy. The duties of "best man" were carried out by Mr. C. S. Coom.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Everest, 2, Railway Terrace, Kowloon, and later the happy couple left for Macao and Canton, the bride wearing a fawn going-away dress.

THEATRE ROYAL.

"Daddy Longlegs."

When Jean Webster wrote "Daddy Longlegs" she wrote one of the most arresting and appealing books ever written. Judy's series of letters to her unknown benefactor are human documents having a charm and freshness that makes their message all the more understood. As a book, "Daddy Longlegs" was a triumph, as a play it is disappointing; it should never have been dramatised. Such was the impression one gained last night at the Theatre Royal when the New English Farical Company staged the play, and it says much for the excellence with which it was such a success. Miss Jane Comfort, as Judy Abbott, Mr. Winnington Barnes as Jervis Pendleton and Miss Minnie Rayner as Miss Prichard did more to make the play a success than did the artist who tried to dramatise Jean Webster's masterpiece. The presentation was well-nigh perfect, not only the principals but all the minor characters also combining to make the play a live one. Judy's letters there could not be, but there was artistry achieved in histrionics.

To-night is being produced the three-act Comedy entitled "The Young Person in Pink."

UNEMPLOYED POLE.

Sent to House of Detention.

Unemployment, at least in the case of certain foreigners, is said to be general in Shanghai, and the large number of Poles and Russians who have reached the Northern port from Vladivostok and Dairen, generally without any means, have not made the position easier. Stanislaus Kobylinski, a Pole, is one of those refugees, and to-day at the Hongkong Police Court, where he appeared as defendant on a charge of vagabondage, it was stated that, failing to secure employment at Shanghai, he stowed away on a steamer and arrived here in a destitute state. Kobylinski was taken to the Sailors Home at West Point on arrival and later handed over to Police Sergeant Hawkins, who described the defendant as being a motor mechanic by profession. This information has raised hopes that he may be able to obtain a job at one of the local garages, and in the meantime he is to be given shelter in the House of Detention.

In giving his decision in the case, the Magistrate this morning said:—"The only thing to do is to send you to the House of Detention, where you will get a roof over your head, and bed and meals which are not so bad as they are made out and you will be allowed to leave between 10 and 4 to look for a job. I must say you are very foolish in coming here when you don't speak English. We can't do anything more for you, except that the Sergeant will supply you with a list of motor garages and you can go round and try to get a job there."

THE MACAO AFFAIR.

Canton Demand Resented.

It is reported that Law Yuk-ling, the Canton Commissioner for Foreign Affairs, has recently gone to Macao several times for the purpose of coming to a settlement with the Portuguese authorities on the matters arising out of the shooting affray. It is said that an agreement was reached on minor points, but that when it came to discussing the demand for the establishment of a permanent intercourse Commission to supervise Chinese affairs in Canton, the Portuguese Governor uttered a very strong objection, pointing out the absence of any such board of control in the neighbouring Colony of Hong Kong.

Law is reported to be equally adamant in his insistence on the fulfilment of this condition, and in the end it is said that the Administrative Head of the Portuguese Colony promised to write to the Home Government at Lisbon for instructions on the matter.

AN EXTRA CIPHER.

Alleged Forged Note.

Possession of a counterfeit $100 note was alleged this morning, before Mr. E. W. Hamilton, against a Chinese man and woman.

The note, which was originally a $10 bill, had had the figure altered, it was stated, to $100, and could at first sight deceive. It was issued, according to the evidence of Mr. H. A. Mabey of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank who was called up in connection with the case, by the Shanghai office of the Bank.

Mr. A. E. Hall appeared for the defence and made an application which resulted in the adjournment of the case until Thursday.

Bail was fixed at $100 for each of the prisoners.

CLUB LUSITANO.

Visit of H. E. Mr. Severn.

A convivial gathering yesterday afternoon took place at the Club Lusitano, when H. E. Mr. Severn, the Officer Administering the Government and Mrs. Severn made their first visit to the Club at the invitation of the Committee and inspected the fine building under the Direction by the President of the Club (Mr. Silva-Netto) and members of the Committee.

Included in the large gathering were His Lordship Bishop D. Pozzani, the Hon. Mr. A. G. M. Fletcher, the Hon. Mr. J. H. Kemp and the Hon. Mr. H. G. Bird. Mr. Albuquerque a Castro (Portuguese Consul), Mr. Eric Rice (H.E.'s Private Secretary), Mr. E. V. M. R. de Sousa, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Lamplugh, Mr. J. C. Barretto, Mr. Pedro V. Botelho, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Rosario. After tea dancing was indulged in to the strains of the Club's jazz band.

The President's Speech.

In the course of his speech the President of the Club said that the Committee and members felt highly honoured by the visit of His Excellency and particularly Mrs. Severn. H. E. was not present when the Club was inaugurated on May 13th this year, and about a month ago expressed a desire to visit the Club's premises. Keen interest had always been shown by the Hon. Mr. Severn in all the affairs of the various sections of the community, and his wish to see the Club's building was another proof of his growing popularity. Mr. Silva-Netto said that it was not a suitable moment to eulogise the services rendered by H. E., but one thing which he could say without fear of contradiction was that H. E. was the most popular official who has ever held an appointment in the Colony. In social, literary or sporting circles they always found the name of the Hon. Mr. Severn closely identified with the most important functions. On behalf of the Club Mr. Silva-Netto wished H. E. and Mrs. Severn continued prosperity and health.

The President's remarks evoked frequent applause.

Three hearty cheers followed by a "Tiger" were then given for the Hon. Mr. Severn.

Mr. Severn's Reply.

The acting Governor, in reply, expressed the pleasure which the Committee had given Mrs. Severn and himself. Unfortunately, Mrs. Severn was not in the best of health and possibly if she had consulted the doctor she would have been forbidden to attend this function. However, she thought the doctor should not be consulted and she came. Laughter. She regretted very much that she had to leave so early, but she carried away with her the happiest recollections of this gathering. H. E. said that he visited the old Club building some time ago and found it full of interest, and he was glad to see in this splendid new building water-colour sketches of the first ceremony in the old building many years ago. He would, however, like to suggest that they bring a little lower so that a better view could be obtained. They were most interesting pictures of the old days of the Colony when the Lusitano Club was the only Club for social gatherings. In the ballroom one saw the leading officials and leading people in the social life of Hong Kong, including the Army and Navy. They should be treasured, and, if possible, reproduced so that there would be more copies available.

H. E. said that the new building would be sufficient to meet the needs of the Club for many years. He regretted his absence when his friend, the Governor of Macao, was present at the opening ceremony for it was a most notable gathering. The relationship between the Government of Macao and the Hongkong Government as well as the local Portuguese community had always been a very friendly one and he felt that the opportunity extended to him of visiting the Club had been quite a happy occasion.

His Excellency proposed the prosperity of the Lusitano Club. The toast having been honoured, the gathering dispersed after the playing of the National Anthem by the band.

DEAD CHINESE IN A TRUNK.

Body Found in Cellar of Sheffield Shop.

The dead body of a Chinese, enclosed in a tin trunk, was dug out of a cellar at Crookes, Sheffield, last month, and, as a result, another Chinese was taken into custody charged with wilful murder.

The dead man is Sing Lee, proprietor of a number of laundries in Sheffield and other towns. He had been missing for several days.

Shortly after midnight police officers visited the laundry and later a Chinese named Leong Lun (alias Lee Doon) was fetched out of bed and questioned about his master. He said that Lee had gone back to China.

Police officers then went into the cellar, and removing about half a ton of coke discovered some freshly replaced clayey earth. Under this they found in a tin trunk the body of Sing Lee.

Doon was arrested but when charged with murder made no reply. He was brought before the Sheffield magistrate and remanded.

It is understood that the arrest was made as the result of suspicion created by the discovery of Miss Lily Siddall, who was employed by Lee Sing to attend to laundry parcels.

Suicide's Farewell Statement.

A document setting out in legal fashion the reasons why he was taking his life, was left by Albert Anderson, aged 83, a Doctor of Science, inventor, and ex-science teacher of Liverpool, on whom a verdict of suicide while of unsound mind was returned.

The statement read:—
"I, Albert Anderson, Doctor of Science and inventor, formerly science teacher and lecturer, make the following statement to assist the inquiry into my death."

"Cause of Death.—Poisoning with cyanide of potassium admitted with wine."

"Where Obtained.—and—(there is the name of a Liverpool firm), with whom I have dealt for 20 years. Obtained last week for experiment in removing stains."

"Cause of rash act: For many years my dear wife has supported the home and myself entirely by her own earnings."

"I have for over 10 years invented and sold novelties. Quite unknown to my wife I have entered into business transactions, shares, actions, &c., which have ended disastrously."

"Unknown to her I have borrowed large sums of money, with which I have paid this interest—see accounts book—this will prove my financial insolvency."

"My wife, knowing nothing of my business, cannot carry out my obligations. I cannot, for although I am sane, I feel I am going mad."

"Something in my brain has snapped, and I feel that madness is fast approaching. God have mercy on me."
